

CARSON POST TO STAGE A CIRCUS

Object Is to Raise Money With Which to Build a Club House

IS A BIG UNDERTAKING

Queen Contest Announced as One of Most Interesting Features

All roads lead to the circus nowadays for Joe Carson post, American Legion. Preparation for the event is on with a rush, circus headquarters having been opened Tuesday at 225 South Boston in the Hotel building, and the efforts of a large group of people will be employed in a great variety of ways until American Legion circus week opens March 6.

It will be a really-true circus, not a carnival or home talent affair, but a complete circus with a circus manager under mainmoot tents and with acts of all kinds from aerial and animal to ground and clown. The post is borrowing for the occasion the circus owned and managed by Al Hicks, veteran stage and circus man, and will guarantee to the public a high class entertainment free from fraud. The circus will start at 10 o'clock in the traditional noon hour with a "regular" parade in which there will be animals, ponies, bands, pretty mounted ladies and the calypso without which no circus parade is what it should be. In addition, the parade will have the unusual feature of marching military units. The circus program is so far on the way to completion that the hours for the three daily performances have been definitely set for 2 o'clock in the afternoon and at 7:30 and at 9 o'clock in the evening.

It is an undertaking of magnitude upon which the post has set its teeth, but their cause is just. In the words of the song, for the cause is to create a financial nest-egg for a post building. In casting about for ways and means to raise funds for a clubhouse, Joe Carson post discarded without consideration the idea of asking Tulsa public outright for financial aid. The circus program has been chosen instead of a project which, if successful, will not only bring thousands of dollars into the building fund but will give the public something in return for its money. For the first time, circus money will stay in Tulsa. The enterprise is one of the biggest ever tackled by a post in this state but the local post has a formidable reputation for grappling with difficulties and coming out victorious. The complicated organization is headed by Lasear Lantz as general chairman.

While the circus proper is the main attraction, it is the queen contest which will entice most the interest of Tulsa's different girls and the young men who variously consider them queens in the rosebud garden of adolescence. Joe Carson post's queen will not owe her crown to a publicity stunt but to popular acclamation, as expressed through the ballot box. The contest will open next week with voting places in operation in downtown business establishments and votes at one cent each. The honored young lady will be the post's queen and will represent the post at the national convention at New Orleans, both next fall. George Berry, Jr., is in charge of this contest. He is a member of the post and has been a season ticket to the circus in addition to the moderate price of $11 he is going to become the owner of a $400 diamond ring. Prizes for the largest advance season ticket sale will be offered among legions.

WILL SEND REPRESENTATIVES

Several Cities Over the State Say Will Join Tulsa in Gas Fight. Several letters have been received by E. E. Short, chairman of the citizens' gas committee, from chambers of commerce and city officials in nearby cities and towns announcing they will send representatives to the mass meeting here Thursday night.

At that time, according to Short, it is planned to organize against the Oklahoma Natural Gas company in an effort to reduce its rate from $2 cents a thousand cubic feet. At the same time an effort will be made to arouse the state to the extensive powers exercised by the corporation commission and to plan a movement toward amending the constitution.

During the mass meeting of citizens at the high school a week ago it was decided to call on other towns and cities to join in this project. It was at that time suggested that the corporation commission should not have no exercise power not authority over corporations operating entirely within a municipality.

300 STUDYING BIBLE WEEKLY

There Are 28 Neighborhood Classes as Result of Sunday Meetings.

Interest in the neighborhood Bible classes outgrowing from the Sunday campaign still continues strong, according to Mrs. L. E. Abbott, general chairman for the work. There are now 28 classes, with several other groups in process of organization. Though the exact figures are not obtainable, Mrs. Abbott estimates that there are about three hundred members in the classes.

The classes meet weekly at times varying from morning and afternoon to evening and in places varying from private homes to churches and public buildings. Their leaders are taught every two weeks by Mrs. L. E. Abbott, general teacher. The eighth general subject is the eighth chapter of Acts.

Klan Warning a Hoax.

BAKERSFIELD, Cal. Feb. 21.—District Attorney J. B. Dorsey, expressed the belief today that alleged Ku-Klux Klan warnings distributed at Taft, a center of the Kern county oil field, were a hoax. He stated an investigation was under way to determine whether a Ku-Klux Klan organization existed and so far no evidence of its existence has been secured. The warning, Dorsey said, was directed "to all law breakers."

DO-LITTLE IS FINALLY BURIED

Funeral Was Held at Ad Club Meeting with Reverend Miller in Charge.

Procrastination was formally sworn by the Ad club Tuesday noon with a mock funeral in which the deceased was Mr. Do-Little. Ad clubbers bade Mr. Do-Little farewell without sorrow and Rev. Leslie Miller, in preaching the usual sermon, dwelt unmercifully on his many faults. The miniature effigy of Mr. Do-Little lay in state in Hotel Tulsa grill room in a tiny coffin decorated with a dashing bouquet of lettuce, onions, beets, turnips and other vegetable garden flowers. L. G. Long capped the climax by reporting a long-distance conversation through a medium with Do-Little's spirit.

Merle C. Prunty spoke on the significance of friendly relations between fathers and sons, and Barbara Osborne, a high school girl, read.

Underwood Not Sane. TOPEKA, Kan., Feb. 21.—With the arrival of Deputy Sheriff C. A. Sands, former secretary-vault of William D. Taylor, murdered movie director.

Blacks Admit Triple Murder. WACO, Texas, Feb. 21.—The two negroes who were arrested yesterday in connection with the killing of W. H.
